Publons Peer Review Awards 2017

Honoring the Sentinels of Science & Research

Hi Jungang Huang,

Congratulations to the top peer reviewers for 2017!

We have just revealed the winners in our Publons Peer Review Awards, celebrating the highest achievers across all the world's journals:

See Top Peer Reviewers

You can search for the top 1% of reviewers in your field, as well as the top editors, reviewing institutions, countries, and more!

All winners will receive an email linking to their profile page. You can head over there now to see your new Publons medal and (where applicable) your personalised certificate.

Don't forget we're also announcing our Sentinel Award winner next Tuesday, 19th September. You can also check out our Peer Review Week page to see all the videos, interviews and top tips we're releasing over the next few days.

From all of us here at Publons, thank you to every one of you. Together you're helping to bring trust and efficiency to scholarly communication, and it's a great honor to put a spotlight to the work you do.

Happy Peer Review Week!
